MY DEAR GEN. BANKS. While I very well know what you would be glad for Louisiana to do, it is quite a different thing for me to assume thection of the matter.

THE BREAK UP.

The Philadelphia Compact Broken—The Country will not Trust the Democratic Party—Untimely End of the "National Union Party."

Nothing has contributed more, (and very many hings have contributed much,) toward attending popular (avor and support from the Just and liberal policy of the President toward the South, han the action of those who claim to be lind. end policy of the President toward the South than the action of those who claim to be find the first that the section of those who claim to be find the president of the Constant along the Governdent of the President," and we am add for the country also. In Premisphania the Administration considered to Governoe's bone who, in his political action, existed the Government throughout the war, who made thinself active to constant to the lovest resisted the Government throughout the war, who made himself interly obvoxious to the toyal men who were strengther to save the analon; and has election, by the defent of a gallant soldier who fought with heroism; and hono for the original control of the resident of a gallant soldier, the varieties of the resident of the analogue of the resident of the varieties of the trendent's policy. The same thing is time, perhaps, in a less conspica ous degree, in nominations for members of Congress and for State officers of various grades throughout the country.

The reason of it is clear. It has been done because the Democratic party has pushed itself into the foreground of the President's supporters, and has solved the occasion to reconstruct and strengthen its own organization, rather

We are happy to be able to lay before our readers this morning an authentic account of the interview between Mr. Davis and Mr. John D. it hereafter. Mr. Davis is greatly debilitated and declining very fast. During breakfast he gave us some rich, sparkling genus of political wisdom from Burke, with his own comments of their fully, as rich as Burke's original thoughts on high matters of ilterature and art, and I was a timere silant absorbant of the golden treasure of liquid thought.

In the dat this Fortress about an hour before Mr. Davis left his prison. This time i spent in reading the immerous papers that were brought in than morning. Presently Mrs. Davis Joined me, and we had a very agreeable discussion, in which she maintained that the American people, North and South, were as noble a people as any on the earth, and I maintained that for argument's sake, that the aristorary of all lands, the real aristocracy, were markedly superior to the masses of the people. I maintained that the catacombs of Rome and Faris showed a gradual approximation to a certain type of character which was not even yet attained except in the heads of Phidas and Proxideles were not equal ed in modern times with Christianny and all the apptances of culture. She check the remarks of in my distinguished foreigners who called her attention to the fact that the American people could more easily adapt themselves to and more thoroughly embody the true pinciple of politic ness than any other Democratic people in the world Just then I made a wicked query that killed a good deat of this theory "Mrs. Davis, how do the many strangers that come here behave towards Mr. Davis?" "Ah," said she, "almost all the Northern women that come peer through the bilinds in the most indelicate many killed a good deaf of this theory. Mrs. Davis, by how do the many strangers that come here too have towards Mr. Davis? "Ah," said she, "at most all the Northern women that come per through the blinds in the most indelicate manner, so that we are often obliged to retire to the linner casemant to avoid their rude glances." "Mrs. Davis, no refined, instinctively polite people could possibly be guilty of such grossness. So you have demolished your own theory." We then talked for a while about education, whereaud by whom bees initiatized and acquired, in while I felt proud that my own maturely formed opinious were adopted by this highly gifted and importal minded woman.

At that time we saw a slender, shadowy, tottering form approach the floot. Something in my heart told me it was Mr. Davis. Strange, mystic hutan heart, withlits divardion and prophecies Bible of the true! Infallible God-word to every himan soul that has ever been imagnetized with love! I had known this man at a time when his word swayed an empire composed of as noble men and as glorious God-gifted women as has ever appeared in the tide of time. I have obtained at his lands the sparing of the lives of fort; swent Confederale solders during the war. I got off fourtien Federal solders condemned to death. I got his written permit—no order—to allow me to visit all the Federal prisons and allowing the strain of the dupon time commensurate to the mercy he in the strain of the dupon time commensurate to the mercy he in the strain of the dupon time commensurate to the mercy he in the strain of the dupon time commensurate to the mercy he in the strain of the strain of the strain of the dupon time commensurate to the mercy he in the strain of E. S. FOWLER & CO.,

The raison of this clear. It has been done because the Democratic party has pushed itself into the foreground of the Freadent's supporting the property of the comparison of the resident upon the principles which he asserts and in the node which he himself pounded out. President upon the principles which he asserts and in the node which he himself pounded out. President Johnson never hestiated to declare the purpose to stand upon the principles of the Union party, to act within its lines, to co-operate with those of its members who adhered to its platform, and to use the party non destroyed liself by its disloyal attitude of the organization. He never concealed his conviction that the Democratic party, as and organization of the organization of the people, and that the party which certical the nuflou through the war that it had justly forfelted the confidence of the people, and that the party which certical the nuflou through the war that it had justly forfelted the confidence of the people, and that the party which certical the nuflou through the war should be proven the proving the Union and support in restoring the Union and support in restoring the Union and scarper and the party in power was the party in pow which he relied for co-operation and support in restoring the Union and scarper and the party in power was the party in the course of the people, and that the party in the confidence of the Union and excuring the thesishing of power. The great body of the Democratic party is not party in the confidence of the Course of the Course of the Course of party in the party in throughout the war—in nomination as empticates, in in nearly all the Congressional Districts, in stead of accepting conservative Union men, they have nominated conditactates from their own have nominated conditactates from their own party—often from the Copperional wing of the party, and always from men identified with its action in the public mind.

We have no hesisation whetever in saying that which can be best throught that the public mind.

We have no hestitation whetere in saying that this policy is fastal to the cause it proisses to serve, and will end in its own defeat. The people of the Northern Bithas will not land over the Government to the control of the Democratic party, under its old organization, and its old its iders. Both rendered themselves thoroughly and justly obnoxious to the loyal particle sentiment of the nation, by their houthiny to the policy of the Government thring the war. The proper will be defeat, and postpone the very object they head to seem relative to their hands, and every effort they make to seemer this result will end in defeat, and postpone the very object they seek to accomplish.

General Grant was perfectly right in saying that men in the North who have been disloyally disributed in the first the properties of the control of public effairs to their hands, and covery effort they make to seemer this result will end in defeat, and postpone the very object they seek to accomplish.

General Grant was perfectly right in saying that men in the North who have been disloyally during the war.

Ріттявовся, Sept. 25. Our city is ablaze with excitement. Large delegations from all parts of the country have arrived and our streets and public thoroughfares are crowded. Private dwellings and business places throughout the city displaying flags, han ers and other patrione emblems, give token of die deep and heartfealt emotions of the people.

At an early hour City Hall was growded to excers by those who came for the purpose of view-ing the splendid decorations. The crowd finally became so dense that no further access could be and and thousands were obliged to retire. The choir occupied the gallery and a number of partiotle songs were sung. A large number of soldiers of the war of 1813 and of Mexico occupied the platform. A number of speeches were delivered by distinguished gentlemen at home and from abroad, and loud calls were made for Genera Butler and General Geary, who, however, were not then present. The audience then fell upon utly complied with. The delegations from the different States were now colled, when the Wionsh delegation entered, with the live Eagle, "Old Abe," borne aloft on his perch, which was most vicilitiously and enthusiastically applanded

A Tribune special says it is now definitely sinted that Jeff. Davis will not be tried this coming October. The Circuit Court that met at Norfolk in April last, under the impression given by the local papers that Congress had voted to transfer the sittings to Richmond, adjourned its proceedings on May 5th to the inter-city until October, as the act (No. 56) did not joss both Houses until May 22. The adjournment of the Court was at that time premature and illegal. Consequently the Court will have to convene at Norfolk and perfect a legal adjournment to Richmond. On the 27th of July Congress passed the act (No. 117) rearranging the Fourth Circuit of the United States Courts by naming Delaware in the place of South Carolina, while at the same time the necessary realistment of Judges to the districts were admitted. The Judges of the Supreme Court do not agree upon their power to make this change of Judges, and it will be necessary to await the action of Congress in this mater, when these difficulties shall have been cleared. The military will in no whee interfere with the civil law. Chief Justice Chase announces

New York, Sept. 25.*

A picnic for the benefit of the Fenian prisoners in Ireland was held by the Fenian Sisterhood at Jones' Wood yesterday. Mr. Stephens made a speech, in which he referated the assertion that fighting would connenee in Ireland this year, and that he would be with them in the light.

The Buard of Aldermen and Councilmon have ordered a monument to deceased soldiers to be creeded in Greenwood Councier, to cost $15,000. Kelty's kerosene oil works, at Hunter's Point, took fite last adjut, about half past the o'clock, from the explosion of a vat, and a disastrous conflagration connect. The were several thousand dollars worth of oil in barrels at the time of the breaking out of the fire and it was all consumed. The large brick building belonging to the works, which contained the machicry, and several sheds slored with Kensene were consumed. Four or dive oil sauks were also consumed.

A Herald Ottawa dispatch says: Cabinet meetings of the Canadian Government are being held daily in Quebec, the subjects discussed being the military condition of the Province, the conflueration and the failure of the Bank of Upper Canada. Much insecurity is left in financial circles, money still demanding fifteen cents in Montreal. The Fenians are said to be assembling for Invasion at Highgate, near Rouse's Point. Large quantities of military stores were being received at Toronto and Montreal and being sent to the Western portion of the Province.

A Tribune New Orieons special says: The Tyler (Arkansas) papers of the 12th inst. say that official information received from Benhain (Texas) shows that place to be in a state of insurrection. The adjor or Shoriff is reported to have telegraphed to the Adjutant General of the State to Know how many men he could farmish to lave the insurgents off. A reply is said to have been received offering 500 well armed men, and more if necessary.

Senator Doubtile said that the late Philadelphia Convention over which he presided, was comof character and more brains than any assembly that ever met on this continent. Character and brains are of great value, but they may be address read by Mr. Raymond was adopted by it. otwithstanding it contained false premises llogical conclusions. The platform adopted by that remarkable body of men is a very singula from the very focus and mint of brains. The 2d section of the platform reads as follow:

imposes upon the general Government im-abilities and unaltered, and it has preserved the Union with equal rights, dignity and authority of the States perfect and unimpaired."

Provisional Governors for the States lately in rereconstruction? The war did preserve the Conmpling to hold individual citizens to ac commond of these States. If the States lately in rebellion hold their rights unimpaired, does it not necessarily follow that the neonle of those then can any of them be punished? How ran Jefferson Davis be tried for treason on this by

But some of the assertious contrined in the section quoted are false in fact, and the ressoning based upon them is of the weakest sort, con sidering that men of brains prepared and adopt stitution and the Union truly. But the rebels If through the war and their symputhisers in the North always declared that the Constitution was gone and that the Union never could be re Yes, the war preserved the Union, bu the Southern States in rehelllon did not come held when they plunged into the fight. To judge by this sample of brains, no Amendment could have been made during the rebellion, onless (wonderful to relate) the rebellious States were permitted to act upon it! Indeed, if what we have moved is correct. Congress did not bass a Consultational law while deff. Dayls was in power. And, therefore, we say that the Amendment prohibiting slavery is a standbling block to the ten of brains and all their aiders and abettots, for certain of the States had no vote upon it. Yet the men of brains say in the 7th section of their 11 platform that "slavery is abolished and forever prohibited." How? By the proclamation, or he Amendment, or both? The rebels in the Convention always held that the proclamation was illegal, and by the 6th section quoted, the Amendment is illegal because it was not passed upon by all the States, from which it follows that ne legal status of the negroes is still that of Titusville, Sept. 25, 1866.

THE CODDESS of Hortlenbure has smiled be ignantly on the orchard of Mr. Chas. Archer in A few weeks ago the firm of Halght, Archer & Co. received a large invoice of spien-did apples from Mr. Archer's farm, but the twenvelive barrels of pippins and twenty ounce of Cayugu red streaks, that were roll tore yesterday, far excelled anything of the kind that has yet been brought into market. There or the fruit would have lacked in color, which this does not. The only cause for regret we see n this case is that so many good people will be disappointed in getting some of this fruit, Only their supply. By noon they will all be gone. Take our advice and call very early this n Phose who don't want to buy can feast their eyes by a sight of them, but to do that they must call arly. In the New York market the "twenty ounce apple" or, as it was first called, "Cayuga red streak," ranks as the best market variety, and our experience coincides with this opinion.
